COMMODORE'S COMMENTS

I went out Tuesday in the Irwin and saw what appeared to be a decent daysailors turnout. That's great. It looks like Summer has finally arrived. It's a short season, so you need to get out every chance you get. Due to the 4th being on first Thursday, our meeting is delayed one week. Let's make it a short one and sail afterwards.

Youth Sailing committee: Dan Thornton provided an update on the youth sailing program. The new floating dock is in and he encouraged members to take a look. Rob Ritchie mentioned that the dock may need some hand holds on the new dock, possibly every four feet to handle 19 slots on the new dock.

The number of youth signing up is lower than last year. As a result, lessons will be provided on Tuesdays - mornings for beginners and afternoons for advanced. Extra sailing can be Vice Commodore Marty Witt has volunteered to help parents who show up on Wednesday nights again this year to help them learn/experience sailing in smaller boats. Scott Baccus also volunteered to help Wednesday nights schedule permitting.

Old Business
